Vaudeville and Photoplays at Davis

The Rural association will hold z business meeting this Friday evening at the Norwich Town chapel at 7.30 o'clock. An entertainment of humorous recitations by Mr. Manning, songs by Mrs. George T. Lord and violin solos by Wentworth B. Prentice and Lou E. Stockwell will be given.

New directories of the following cities were received this week by The Bulletin company from the Price, Lee Co. of New Haven: Patterson, N. J., Elizabeth, N. J., Colorado City, Col., and Hartford, Conn. These directories have been placed in the directory file of The Bulletin Co. for the convenience of the public in general.

Enthralis Large Audiences.

Mrs. Grace Aldrich Crowell, one of the foremost church soloists in this city is heard in "Thy Star," by Tosti. "I heard the Voice of Jesus," by Rathbun, and Gounod's "There is a Green Hill," all of which are rendered at the time when they will have the most telling effect, and the beauty of her voice was never more apparent than in this superb group of songs. Mr. Raymond O'Neil sings "Jerusalsm," and "Nearer my God to Thee," with splendid effect, and the result is, a performance that would be difficult to equal. The grandeur of the film is greatly enhanced by the superb coloring, and the entire spectacle from the Annunciation to the scension is one. Annunciation to the scension is one succession of gorgeous religious admiration for the Saviour.

To enable the crowds to see this big feature, there will be two matinees Saturday, beginning at 1.30 p. m.

The advance sale for the engage-ment of Eva Tanguay who comes as a mont of Eva Tanguay who comes as a star at the head of her own noveity company is announced by the Lyceum theater, New London, management, where she appears next Monday, to open this morning, Miss Tanguay in addition to her own big production of "Salome" will offer for the first time outside of New York her newest songs in which she interprets her own views. in which she interprets her own views of life and the worth of it. Also there will be a grand opera orchestra and eight or ten of the acts which are usually announced in electric letters in front of the high-class vaudevill theatres of the greater cities.

Itching Terribly. Hair Came Out. Terrible Lot of Dandruff, Scales Would Fall on Coat. Scratched Until Made Big Sores. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Him.

5 Brewer St., Newport, R. I. - "My husband had eczema for six months all this time taking medicine and using salve not doing him any good. The trouble grew worse. It started with red shining ing until he made big sores all over his head.

"I washed the scalp in warm water and "I washed the scalp in warm water and scap, but this only made it worse, the red spots growing larger until they covered the whole scalp, coming down the forehead. I got one cake of Cuticura Scap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment. I washed his head in as hot water as he could stand, using plenty of Cuticura Scap. This would take all the dry scales away leaving red spots. After rubbing the hair dry I applied the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp and this would stop the itching at once. After two weeks, treatment he was completely cured." weeks' treatment he was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. O. L. Eklund, Dec. 7, 1911.

POETRY

MY SCOTCH LASSIE JEAN,

In Scotland's fair lands, over mountains and rills,
That's where I roamed for many a day,
In looking at the lads and lassies on the green,
In the fair old land of Scotland far away,
I have waited for her coming, but she has not come as yet;
The truth seems to dawn upon me plain;
They say she is false, but I still believe her true,
She's my darling blue-eyed Scotch lassie, Jean.

CHORUS: CHORUS:
O Jean, my bonnia Jean! come to your laddic once again!
They say that you are false, but I still believe you mine.
You are my bonnie blue-eyed Scotch lassie, Jean.

She said she would meet me, but I've waited long in vain; In lands far away she does roam. Her promise she will keep, ohi break it not, my Jenn!

We'll be happy in our bonnie little home. On then let me not long wait, let me meet thee soon, my Jean, And the heavens will smile on our And when life is dead we will leave this earthly scene.

And our hearts will dwell in joy and bliss above.

SONG FOR SAINT VALENTINE'S DAY I send my Love across the night To thee that art my heart's delight; And though the night be dark, I know My Love will find the way to go; And though the path be rough and long, My Love is leal, my Love is strong. Thou wilt—I well can fancy this—Give Love thy hand and lips to kiss; And with thy gracious golden smile Warm Love within thy breast awhile, (Ah, harbor of all loveliness;) For hitter is the wind's caress That causeth shivering and smart, Though Love be ever warm at heart!

Then clearly can I hear thee say To Love "Thou shait abide alway" And Love, my Love, will answer, yest Abide forever and a day!" What happiness if I might fies
With Love across the night to thee!

"He said that you were the most accomplished, most brilliant man in the army, by far the greatest organizer and best disciplinarian, and that you were withal mollest, self reliant—yes, magnificent, and that you had the love and confidence of your whole army." "Thank you, my dear madam, for voicing the thought of my good old friend. but he is prejudiced. He sees me with the eyes of affection. My superfor officers from the Commander in-Chief down, and even some who were my beet friends did not agree with him as to my soldierly qualities."

"I know that, and the only time I ever heard my Soldier admit the shadow of a question in regard to the infallibility of Mr. Lincoln's judgment was when there came through the lines a paper with Mr. Lincoln's characteristic telegram in answer to the demand of the State of Pennsylvania for your reinstatement in which he said something to the effect that 'We didn't gain anything by opening one leak to stop another, or silencing one clamor and creating a greater one."

"Mr. Lincoln was perfectly right," said Gen. McClellan. "It would not have been wise to risk an open rupture with his Cabinet and Congress. And as for me, I would rather the other fellow had been opposite Pickett at Gettysburs, You know, my Soldier told me that you and Gen. Lee were so sellottous for the peace and tranquility of your country he believed that if you two would result in a more brotherly settle-ment of all difficulties."

ment of all difficulties."

"What a grand man Lee was," said Gen. McClollan. "Porhaps I could have connecled better than I could fight, and might have safely preserved the line of caution which even my friends consured me for trying to keep too rigidly. Yes, Pickett, my judgment was questioned when I did not move against Manassas in the fall when the waither and the walking were good. And again at Antietzen, my fack of proper equipment not being taken into consideration. Others saw only the weather and the walking; they did not see my side. While I was unged on by the Frendent I felt that I, not him. Lissoon, was respensible for the fate of my army."
